

Town of Philipstown Disclaimer

The Town of Philipstown maintains this website as a public service. All statements and representations made on this Website are for informational purposes only, and the Town of Philipstown expressly disclaims liability for all errors or omissions in the content hereof. Interested persons should contact the Town Hall to confirm the accuracy and completeness of any and all statements and representations made herein before acting.

The Town website contains links to other websites solely as a public service. The Town of Philipstown does not sponsor or endorse any business, service or product referenced by such links. Further, the Town of Philipstown does not make any representations as to the accuracy, completeness or reliability of any information or opinions contained in such other websites.

Communications made to the Town of Philipstown, its officers, employees or agents through this website, by e-mail, messaging system or otherwise, shall in no way constitute formal or legal notice to the Town of Philipstown of any matter.