Human Genetic Engineering What Can We Do? What Should We Do?

A Hastings Center Garrison Seminar

Wednesday, October 19th
6:00 pm reception • 7:00 lecture & Q&A

The Hastings Center invites you to join us for a thought-provoking talk by Director of Research Josephine Johnston about new methods for altering the human genome and the social and policy debate these scientific advances have triggered. Ms. Johnston, a New-Zealand-trained lawyer, is an expert on the ethical, legal, and policy implications of biomedical technologies, particularly as used in human reproduction, psychiatry, genetics, and neuroscience. She is interviewed frequently by the media, appearing in the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Wired, and on ABC's Nightline.

Since 1969, The Hastings Center has been helping policymakers, clinicians, patients, and the public make more informed decisions about some of life's most profound questions.
